Hi, Jess. Are you enjoying your holiday? I arrived here in Hong Kong yesterday. I'm staying with my sister. She's been here for five years. Today we saw a beautiful view of Hong Kong from a mountain called Victoria Peak. It is a high mountain, and we took a cable car to the top. I want to eat a lot of Chinese food here. Have you ever been to Hong Kong? I hope to hear from you soon.

Hi, Kyle. Thank you for your email. It's a good thing you're having a great time. I have been to Hong Kong three times. When I was in Hong Kong, I went to a very big Chinese restaurant. It had more than 4,000 seats. There was a large fish tank* in the restaurant. I could choose the fish I wanted to eat from the tank. That was so exciting. You should go there.

Hi, Jess. Thanks for your email and good information. My sister knows about the restaurant. We are going to eat there tonight. I believe we will enjoy wonderful food. We are also going to many places to shop tomorrow. I really want to visit the street markets. There will be so many things I want to buy. First, I will buy you a nice T-shirt. I'll see you when I get back to Miami.

Takashi is a junior high school student from Osaka. He is now living in the US with a host family. He's staying with the Johnsons in New York.

The other day, he asked Mrs. Johnson for a cup of coffee with his breakfast. She was surprised that he asked for coffee, and gave him a glass of juice instead. She said that in the US, young people don't usually drink coffee. She said most young people drink juice. Takashi told her that in Japan many young people drink hot or iced coffee. He said that he had two cups of coffee almost every day in his country.

Takashi is learning about some differences between American and Japanese culture. He was surprised that Mrs. Johnson's daughter drove to school. She is just seventeen years old! Mrs. Johnson said that in the US many young people get a driver's license when they are sixteen. She also said that when she was young, some people started driving when they were just twelve or thirteen years old.

Takashi is happy that he learned a lot of things about American life. Now he is looking forward to telling his friends in Japan about his experience when he returns home. He thinks that they will be very surprised, too.

(26) Where is Takashi living now?

- A. In Osaka.
- B. In the US.
- C. In the US with his friends.
- D. In Osaka with his host family.

(27) Why was Mrs. Johnson surprised?

- A. Because Takashi wanted coffee.
- B. Because young people in the US drink juice.
- C. Because Takashi didn't like juice.
- D. Because Takashi asked for juice with his breakfast.

- (28) Why was Takashi surprised at Mrs. Johnson's daughter?
- A. Because she drank iced coffee.
  - B. Because she knew about Japanese culture.
  - C. Because she was able to drive a car.
  - D. Because she started driving when she was twelve or thirteen.
- (29) What is Takashi looking forward to when he returns home?
- A. Enjoying Japanese culture.
  - B. Talking about the things he learned in the US.
  - C. Getting a driver's license.
  - D. Having a good time with his family.
- (30) What did some young people in the US begin to do when Mrs. Johnson was young?
- A. To drive when they were twelve or thirteen.
  - B. To get a license after they turned seventeen years old.
  - C. To drink coffee with their breakfast.
  - D. To learn about American culture.
